Hadfield Wood Recyclers is an award-winning company with more than 30 years experience in the industry

What we do

We take all grades of non-hazardous waste wood, clean it, where necessary organically treat it, and use it to produce more than 20 sustainable products.

Our products range from animal bedding and feedstock for panel board to arena surfaces and biomass fuel. All are carefully manufactured to ensure our customers get quality products.

Truly national

We offer a nationwide service, long term contracts, and an open gates policy to contracted customers.

We can guarantee landfill diversion and help local authorities to meet their recycling targets. We are also fully accredited to issue Packaging Recovery Notes (PRNs).

If you are already working with contractors, don't worry. We can work with them on your behalf.

Who we work with

Hadfield Wood Recyclers has been in the recycling business for more than 30 years and has a credible track record with many of the key players within the industry.

In 2009 we secured one of the UK's largest wood waste contracts: a five-year contract with Viridor, on behalf of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority.

We work across the UK with local authorities, waste management companies, construction and demolition firms, skip companies - in fact anyone, big or small - with waste wood to dispose of.

The process

The waste wood we receive is put through a stringent segregation and cleaning process before it is used in our products.

What will it cost

The cost of recycling wood depends upon the quality of the materials received. The price is based on the lowest grade of wood in the mix, therefore segregating materials before they arrive on site proves the most cost effective. We can train you to help you do this.
